You choose to do Digital Marketing Master’s Certificate with Digital Vidya, what made you take this decision?

I must say that Digital Vidya has done tremendous work on their own Marketing and Online Reputation Management. I was not aware of Digital Marketing, I heard the term only after searching for the course of Search Engine Optimization. I was working as Sales Manager (trainee) for Shriram Life Insurance Limited. I was fed-up with field sales calls in 5 months’ time, but I was still interested in Marketing. So, I took some help from Google and wanted to learn more about sales and marketing where I landed on information about Digital Marketing.

I then searched for the best Digital Marketing Institutes in India and I found Digital Vidya. On the other hand, I read tons of reviews about Digital Vidya over the web before signing in with the course.

How were your experiences with the course, the course content and the teaching methodology?

It was great, like, because the best part was after paying fees, I don't have to pay tons to stay out here in Delhi to pursue the course. Presentations were pretty good, as I still refer to those if I'm stuck. About the teaching methodology, I would say that all the mentors were experts in their domain, so they very well know how to deliver.

The CDMM Course has certainly contributed a lot in terms of gaining knowledge of the digital world & learning to implement the concepts in real projects. As a participant of CDMM, I have been given an opportunity to work as a Volunteer with them for six months & implement the SMM knowledge on social mediums by generating content for them.

As a fresher, getting this kind of exposure is a value added to my experience & in my CV as well. I got this opportunity before completing my CDMM course, which will be completed in a month now.

Digital media especially Social media channels such as Facebook can eat up a lot of your productive time if not used wisely. Do you agree? What all can one do to efficiently leverage these channels for personal growth?

It is indeed true that social media channels can eat out lot of our productive time, if used incorrectly. One should be able to see these channels as a way to increase their productivity and things will automatically happen in that way.

For instance:
- One can follow popular influencer's pages to get updated about latest happenings.
- One can become subscriber of relevant trending groups
- One can engage with their audience by building quality content
- One can develop relationships with like-minded people
- One can develop its own personal brand
- One can follow company pages to get their latest updates or job postings.

Social media channels have a tremendous power, if used in a proper manner.
